

Superlift 4xAdventure in Hot Springs, AR

Filed under: Trips — posted Monday, May 15, 2006 at 4:56 pm

Whew, what a blast! We got back sunday afternoon from another great trip to the Superlift ORV Park in Hot Springs, AR. This time we finally got our TJ out to the park, and we really put it through its paces! Jennifer drove the whole time and did great. We didn't suffer any carnage, other than new scraps and scratches, but one of the guys in our group friday took a hard roll over an off-camber ledge. No one was hurt thanks to a tough Poison Spyder rollcage, but his windshield was toast, along with his hood and driver-side door.

Since this was a Superlift-sponsored event, there were camera crews on hand for Superlift.TV as well as photographers for a few of the major 4x4 magazines. They were all with us on the trails friday, so we may end up on TV and/or in some mags! Woohoo! The guy who rolled will definitely be in there, haha!

We also finally got to meet BJ and his wife, who are the new property managers for the park, as well as Bret, the actual owner of Superlift itself. They were all great folks.

The biggest change in the park since we were there last is the completion of a huge new pavillion above the main office. Watch for a full trip report on Jeepin.com soon, in the mean time check out all the pics in my Flickr photos!

Entry Filed under: Trips